PUZZŁLED OVER OF COPPER LAST

El Pasoan Who Operated in Weekly Review of Copper, Colorado, Believed Nugket and Production. gets Grew.

The source of placer gold is often mystery. The general theory is that It is the result of erosion of the orighai mountains and veins therein and subsequent concentration by meteoric waters. But there are places where the source cannot readily be accounted for on this theory. In the Jienrillas.

For instance, in the Jicarilla moun-tains, north of White Oaks, N. M., rich century by American miners and probably for over a century by Mexicans and indians. These occur in the guiches tion for dairy or poultry farm; 7 lots and canyons at the base of the moun-with 7 room house having modern conseams carrying gold in commercial, but they show no appreciable amount of the yellow metal. The country rock of the mountains is composed of porphyries, granites and metamorphosed sedimentaries, and these have not shown any evidence of being the source of the placer gold. The elevation of the Jicarillas above the plain and other mountains precludes any hypothesis of the deposits being of glacial origin or ancient river beds. The old proverb of King Solomon that "silver is found in veins, but gold is where it lies," is the only solution to the origin of the Jicarilla placer gold:

Peculiar Placers. Probably the most peculiar placer deposit ever found 49 years ago in Mon-tana was discovered in the Scratch Gravel hills, four miles north of the Helena Independent: The placers consisted of shallow granite sand covering a bed rock of stanlie, and was not more than two feet in thickness. The gold found after the dirt was washed consisted of nuggets, which were mostly picked up by hand from the bed rock. A large per centage of the gold was coated with a whice silicate of lime, and resembled ordinary worthless pebbles, but when the coating was removed from the nuggets they proved to be pure gold. Many attempts have been made to account for the presence of the gold in a locality where there was practically no wash, but thus far no satisfactory solution has been submitted, unless it be that the gold came from a pocket or lead nearby and a little higher up. But whatever is the true solution of these rich diggings, nobody has as yet traced the gold to its source.

Belleved Nuggets Grow. The late Capt. W. S. Shephard, of the El Paso customs house, mined in the placers in California rado, in the early 60's. He firmly believed that placer gold grows in the ground by some mysterious chemical or electrolytic process of nature. Twenty years after he had worked out his placer he revisited the place. and was astonished to find a big company operating the placer at a profit. In the very dirt he had thrown aside new placer gold and nuggets had grown, and the old fashioned nails he had brought from St. Louis in 1859 to nail the sluice boxes had turned into where they were imbedded in the dirt. The aqueous solution theory would not explain this paenomenon, because

El Paso Stockholders Are Interested in Many Mexico Properties.

Rich smelting are is still being taken out of the recent big strike in the Estrella mine of the North Star Co., near the eastern line of the state of Sonora about 70 miles west of Casas Grandes, Superintendent Hughes, who is in the city, reports that a new shoot of ore was cut by the east level driving from the bottom of the shaft, being regarded as an entirely new deposit and different from the other rich shoot of ore being mined on the level above A large tonnage of milling ore is also being mined from both bottom and drifts.

emplete milling plant during the year and funds for this purpose are now be ing raised. This company, which is composed of El Paso stockholders, has its principal office in this city. There are rumors of two other big strikes of ore, by Mexican prospectors, who are working in the immediate vi-cinity of the Estrella mines. A great deal of prospecting is going on also in the section south of this camp in the most rugged and wildest part of the Sferra Madre along the dividing the veins are large and the ore shoots are persistent. Mining men regard this as one of the best mineral zones in northern Mexico. Capital is constantly being invested in railways, timber and ranch lands as well as mines, and many Americans are looking over the entire section from line of Chihuahua and Sonora, in which

Casas Grandes to the Aros river, The best mining section lies from 40 to 60 miles west of the line of the Mexog & Northwestern railroad which is milding south from Terrazas to Mound Valley, thence continuing on, to conect at Madera with the Chihuahua and Pacific railroad. The mines, now in operation, that lie contiguous to this line of railway are The Candelaria, Fortuna, Dolores, Dos Cabezas, Estrella del No te, Redding, Utah La Plata, the copper mines of Guaynopa and many others, which will soon be in direct railway communication with this city, where most of the owners and stockholders live,

HINTS FOR PROSPECTORS

ON TEMPERING STEEL One of the first things a miner and prospector should learn is to temper and sharpen his drills. The hardening and tempering of steel is effected by heating it to cherry red and plunging it into cold water. The degree of hardness depends on the heat and rapidity

Steel in its hardest state being too brittle for most purposes the requisite strength and elasticity are obtained by tempering, which is performed by heating the hardened steel to a certain degree and cooling it quickly. requisite heat is usually ascertained by the color which the surface of the steel assumes. A straw color is comme used for cold chisels and machinist's

Steel and Pig Iron Mar-

New York, N. Y., Jan. 3.-Copper exporters have been in the market, purand March delivery, and some moderate purchases for January shipment. For February and March delivery the prices realized are equivalent to 131-2 to 135-8 cents f. o. b., or 135-8 to 135-4 ents delivered 35 days for electrolytic in the New York market, or practically 1-8 cent higher. The selling basis for the first quarter of the year has there, and extensive placers exist that have the first quarter of the year has there, been worked for over a quarter of a fore reached the level at which the Amalgamated interest has been quoting, and it is understood that they have new accepted most of the business for Statistical Position Favorable. The more active buying by dealers has been encouraged by the more favorable statistical position, which will shown by the movement of copper during December. It is estimated that deliveries into domestic consumption and for export will be about 65,000,000 | Porkpounds each, making the total December deliveries 130,000,000 pounds. It is also claimed that there has been a decrease in the output of refined copper, and instead of a rate of a little 4,000,000 pounds per day for December, the output will show a decrease of from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 pounds for the month, so that stocks will be reduced between 10,000,000 and $5,000,000 pounds.

Of course, this does not mean that consumption has actually reached the rate of 65,000 000 pounds in Europe. The full decrease in stocks in this country will be fully offset by an increase abroad, but as speculators are still the most important factors in the market, this point will have small bearing upon operators, and therefore a higher market is looked for within the next week or two, when consumers come into the market for February and March requirements. A more active speculative movement is likely to precede buying by consumers. Steel Market. There is still keen interest in fabricated and structural steel contracts, with more liberal specifications and a fair aggregate of new orders. During the past week heavy specifications on contracts have been made. which will probably run the total contracts for December up to 125,000 tons. It is expected that January will be a light month, but a heavy increase is astured during February.

Pig Iron. The recorded sales of anthracite and coke pig iron, made by merchant furnaces during 1909, aggregated approximately 6,200,000 tons. The sales of charcoal iron and alloys bring up the total to well over 7,000,000 tons. There also have been contract, for steel making from especially, placed on a sliding scale basis, estimated at somewhat over a million tons, making the total contracts for all kinds of pig fron during approximately 25.780,000 tons, stocks of about 700,000 tons are indicated. This showing is slightly modified by Imports and exports. The importations during the year, estimating November and December, have been about 172,000 Michigan. while exports have been about 58.000 tons. Deductions from the above figures Indicate that consumption during the year has been approximately 25,800,000 ons, and that furnace stocks of about 100,000 tons existed. At the beginning of the fourth quarter of 1909 stocks on furnace banks and in the hands of speculators were somewhat in excess of 1,500,000 tons, so during the last few months nearly half of this surplus has gone into consumption channels, although not necessrally melted. LORDSBURG HAS A NEW SMELTER

Bonney Mines Are Active and Many Improvements Are Made.

O, Ryback, manager of the Bonney mines in the Lordsburg, New Mexico, district, is in the city and states that the new smelter being installed is be-made, and today will be blown in for continuous operation.

Sample tests of ores averaging ten copper returned builton percent copper and blister copper 65 These experimental were made on hot blast smelter which has been erected under the personal supervision of the inventor.

Mr. Ryback is enthusiastic over the future of the Bonney mines now that Live Oak Devel..... the ground. The smelter is within 150 feet of the mouth of No. 2 shaft and the ores are carried in cars as mined to the smelter. The ores carry high gold, silver and copper values. The shaft is 248 feet deep, showing three feet pay streak of ore that is more than paying expenses of development. The company will at once begin sinking the shaft

In addition to the instalation of the smelter, the company has justs made several improvements, installing a new hoisting plant and facilities handling the ores on an economical basis, according to Mr. Ryback. The Bonney Mining company is now on the eve of becoming a profitable producer, due to the intelligent and able management of manager Ryback. The district of Lordsburg is the scene of great mining activity and is a constant

Remains of Wife of Telephone Manager Taken to Salt Lake.

Faulty construction of the bath room and the failure of the plumbers to provide an escape pipe for the fumes from a gas heater are thought to have caused the death of Mrs. P. H. Irwin, wife of local manager Irwin of the Southwestern Telephone and Telegraph company, Saturday night, shortly before mid-

Mrs. Irwin lighted the gas heater about 10 oclock Saturday night preparatory to taking a bath. Mr. Irwin, who was in the house at the time, lay down on a couch to wait until Mrs. Irwin had finished her bath. He fell asleep and was awakened shortly before 12 oclock by the strong gas fumes which filled he found his wife sested on the floor, leaning against the bath tub. She was dead when found and all efforts to restore her were without avail. Mrs. Irwin was 25 years of age and was a native of Salt Lake City, Utah. She had been married to Mr. Irwin but Sait Lake to succeed former manager F. S. Martin.

Coroner E. B. McClintock was called asphyxiation, resulting from defective onstruction in the bath room. The remains of Mrs. Irwin were taken to Salt Lake this morning on the Santa Fe by Mr. Irwin, accompanied by his 2 year old son. The arrangements for the removal of the remains to Salt Lake were

EL PASO WOMAN JOINS A CARNIVAL COMPANY Husband Locates Her in Tucson, With Company, Under Another Name, and Returns Here Alone.
Globe, Ariz., Jan. 3.—Mrs. George Cundiff, wife of a restaurant man in El Paso, left her husband some time ago, it is charged, and joined the Nat Reiss carnival here. She went to Tucson with the company.

son with the company. Her husband learned that she was in Tueson and went there to effect a reconciliation, but he thought to go to see "Gay Paree" before he visited his wife and saw her as one of the "Gay Paree" girls, it is declared, after which he returned to El Paso alone, leaving her with the carnival. When seen at the Bristol rathskellar, where he is in charge of the bar, Mr. Cundiff was of the opinion that the circulated story was a clever bit of carnival advertising.

"My wife, who was formerly employed as cashler here, went from here to work in a Globe restaurant," he explained. "Then I heard that she was with the carnival company and I met her at Tueson and told her that she might remain with the show and that any time she pleased, she could come 216 home. She is now in Phoenix. Here is a post card I received from her yester-Shattuck 2114 day. She is not going under the name of Cundiff with the show. married in El Paso three years ago." He was shown the telegram from Globe as printed above, and said it was
